Church of Scotland - New Strategy

A new strategy focusing on growth, financial sustainability and simplification is being proposed for the Church of Scotland.

It is designed to shift away from a mindset of managing decline and concentrate on growing new disciples and advancing the Kirk's mission to make a positive impact on communities in the name of Jesus Christ.

The Assembly Trustees say God is active within the denomination and there is already growth across the Church, but argue that a new strategy is needed to ensure structures, procedures and processes support it.

A report that sets a clear strategic shift towards growth as the organising principle for the Church from 2026 –2031 is being presented to the General Assembly in Edinburgh next month.

The key principles outlined in the Assembly Trustees report are: -

- Mission – sharing the gospel and nurturing discipleship.
- Simplification – reducing administrative burdens on congregations and presbyteries.
- Financial sustainability – creating a flexible, realistic model for funding ministry.
- Duty of care – ensuring reforms are compassionate, covenantal, and supportive.

The Assembly Trustees hope the strategy will free up time, energy and resource, releasing congregations from unnecessary administration and place them on a sound financial basis to support ministry.

The report says: “The Assembly Trustees recognise that to sustain the Church of the future requires the Church of today to place growth at the core of our vision and strategy.

“Our theological understanding of the covenant between congregation and minister and formulating a new financing model that makes that covenantal connection clearer is closely tied to our ability to grow the Church.”

The Assembly Trustees say growth is already happening in the Church and must now be intentionally fostered.

“Contrary to what has often been reported, God is active within the Church of Scotland, where every year faithful Christians seek to live out their faith,” stated the report.

“In Bible studies, prayer spaces, foodbanks, addiction services, care homes, dementia cafés and myriad other places, you will find Church of Scotland members.

“Additionally, new people are joining the Church with new professions of faith occurring across the denomination.”

The Church of Scotland

The Assembly Trustees report says people must grow in their own faith.

“If the Church is the action of God’s people in the world, then it stands to reason that as faith grows there will be a resulting increase in that action,” it states.

“A focus on growth will result in more people being involved in their local church and community, and more volunteers.

“A Church that is salt and light in the world as commanded by Jesus is predicated on the people living out their faith.

“This is a vision of what the Church can be, is complementary to the Vivid Vision adopted by the Faith Action Programme Leadership Team (FAPLT), and aims to focus on a Church that looks to fulfil its calling to the people and Scotland and the world.

“The Church’s mission is to inspire the people of Scotland and beyond with the Good News of Jesus Christ through enthusiastic worshipping, witnessing, nurturing, serving, teaching and learning communities.

“Mission is a core part of our DNA as Christians.

“Being commanded by Christ, we have no other option, or desire, than to see mission remain at the heart of our priorities.”

The Assembly Trustees are encouraging every member of the Church to cultivate friendships with Christians and churches around the world.

“These relationships help us to see the gospel from new perspectives, challenging our assumptions, and deepen our discipleship through mutual prayer, storytelling and shared witness,” the report says.

Christian Aid Week

As you know, Christian Aid Week is right around the corner, May 10-16, 2026.

Christian Aid Week is seven days to make a difference against global poverty. It's a celebration of our movement, standing in solidarity with our global neighbours. We believe that every person is created in God's image, and deserves a full and dignified life, free from poverty and injustice.

There will be lots of events happening in churches and communities throughout Fife. It would be wonderful if the Presbytery team were able to support these. One such event is the Forthview Sign-along, Saturday 16 May at 2pm in Dalgety Church.

Beacon of Hope, Kenya

Christian Aid Week is our largest annual appeal and supports our global work to eradicate poverty. This year, we're highlighting stories from our work with partners in Kenya, where Beacon of Hope is empowering urban farmers to use small spaces for growing veg. These gardens increase nutrition and income for families, and help parents send their children to school. The Church of Scotland's support has been integral in making Christian Aid Week such a successful community fundraising moment, so thank you!

What is Taizé worship? It is a reflective style of worship, which we enter and leave in silence. Taizé music emphasizes simple phrases, usually lines from Psalms or other pieces of scripture, repeated and sometimes sung in canon. But Taizé worship is more than music. Scripture, prayer, and silence come together in the Taizé experience to create a simple, deep encounter with God. As part of the service, you may light a candle.

Mrs Winnie Ramsay: Certificate for Service as an Elder

On Sunday 26th April, during the morning service in Burntisland Church of Scotland, Mrs Winnie Ramsay received her certificate for 30 years service as an Elder from Rev Jim Reid. We congratulate her many years of service at Burntisland and hope she will continue provide the congregation with many more years of guidance and shepherding.

Interim Moderator Training Dates

To all Presbytery Clerks: Hello everyone

I am planning the next online Interim Moderator training for the first part of June. Last time there was a choice of an afternoon or evening session, which seemed to work well so I will do that again. Here are the dates (and people only have to attend one session as they both cover the same topics):

Tuesday 2 June 2026 from 2pm-4.30pm.

Wednesday 10 June 2026 from 7pm-9.30pm.

If you let me have the names and email addresses of anyone in your Presbytery who would like to take part in the training, I will send out the Teams link and training handout to them nearer the time.

As you know, this training is required for Elders and Deacons to be Interim Moderators (section 5.3.2.2 of the Church Courts Act). The training is also open to Ministers who'd like training or simply a refresher.

Interim Moderators have to be members of Presbytery, so if not already members you would need to be able to admit them to membership at least for the duration of their appointment as IMs.

Hoping you are all well and that I'll see many of you at the GA,

Victoria

FIFE COASTAL TRINITY CHURCH

Fife Coastal Trinity Parish Church of Scotland was formed on 1 January 2026 with the union of East Neuk Trinity (Colinsburgh, Elie, and Kilconquhar); Largo (Lower and Upper Largo and Lundin Links); and St Monans Parishes.

The new parish incorporates seaside and fishing villages, along a beautiful coastline, from the most westerly village of Lundin Links to St Monans in the east. The parish also includes rural villages and hamlets.

Regular bus services operate along the coast providing links to nearby St Andrews and Leven, and further afield. A rail link to Leven was re-opened, in 2024, and connects directly to Kirkcaldy, Edinburgh, and the Fife Circle line.

More information can be found in our Parish Profile on our website – www.fifecoastaltrinity.org.uk

Our unity is a result of work to develop shared values: deep love for our communities, commitment to mission, and a desire to serve Jesus Christ in a changing world. Together we are seeking a minister with energy and vision to lead us along this path and who also will bring Bible centred teaching and preaching, fuelled by the Holy Spirit.

Information/confidential enquiries may be made to the Interim Moderator, Ian Wotherspoon, at wotherspoonrig@btinternet.com

Applications should include a CV and covering letter, together with a short personal statement about yourself and what you believe that you can bring to our congregation and parish.

The names and contact details of two referees should also be included. Referees will only be contacted if the application is taken further. Links to any examples of online services that you have conducted would be helpful and appreciated if available.
